AbilityNet - adapted computers for the disabled

Organisation Details

Description of activity

AbilityNet exists to change the lives of disabled people by helping them to use digital technology at work, at home or in education.

Free Services for Disabled People

AbilityNet has been a leading authority on accessibility and assistive technologies for 20 years and we continue to provide a range of free services for disabled people, their family and friends, their employers and other people who care for them.

Free Factsheets covering a range of tips and advice about how computers can be adapted to help disabled people.

Call our free Helpline on 0800 269 545 to ask anything about how computers can be adapted to meet the needs of disabled people.

Our free online tools can help disabled people tailor their IT to meet their needs.

Our network of IT Can Help volunteers can visit disabled people in their home to help with everyday IT needs.

We also have a large network of IT professionals who help charities with their IT needs.
